PRESS RELEASE

American Institute of Architects – Central Kentucky Chapter

Sponsorship Opportunities Now Available – Limited Numbers of Sizes and Locations

Louisville, August 1, 2007: Blake and Others, LLC (BAO) announced today that sponsorship opportunities are now being accepted for the American Institute of Architects – Central Kentucky Chapter (AIA-CKC.ORG) website.

The newly designed AIA-CKC website is an essential tool and portal to the Central Kentucky area AEC community. It has a very specific targeted audience in the following professions: Architecture, Engineering, Construction, Development, Property Management, Facility Management, Interior Design, Owners seeking Architects and related information.

AIA-CKC.ORG serves as a portal of key information to the AEC community by publishing information for relevant special events, learning/education opportunities, notable projects, links to other helpful resources, important dates, feature articles, contact information, officer/member information and registration information.

Sponsorship brings benefits. By sponsoring AIA-CKC.ORG, your organization will receive brand recognition from AIA-CKC.ORG, in addition to, exposure to the CKC regional AEC community. Sponsorship also helps support the AIA-CKC organization and helps better the resources of all AIA-CKC members and affiliates.
